Council Summons 'Expert' For Re-assessment Battle

Battling against time, lieutenants in the city-wide protest against recent county reassessments Monday night called for petitions from eight city districts and the city council approved authorization of a maximum $2500 to hire an expert to probe and present the "package" appeal to the county board of supervisors.

Repeating prime need of protesting Westlake land reassessments because "about 500 or 600 homeowners" are involved on the immediate tax rolls, City Attorney Frank Blum cited urgency of prompt action.

Request Hearing
Councilmen, whose resolution two weeks ago authorized the mass movement, moved to request a hearing before county supervisors on July 12 to plead Daly City's case.

The "expert" to be hired immediately by a screening committee of councilmen, Blum, City Manager Howard Stites, and Ed Murphy, Westlake Improvement Association representative, was ruled necessary "if we are to convince the county through qualified authority."

The expert to be chosen, a member of the American Institute of Appraisers, will be assisted by several local realtors in appraising affected Westlake land and making comparisons with similar subdivisions in the county. Murphy told the council he was sure realtors would assist, since so many people are involved.

Mayor Verducci's suggestion that special petition workers to assist city officials and the expert in checking reassessments in the protest move be hired was approved by the council. Mrs. Alyce Shea, WIA secretary, also will volunteer her services.

Many Signatures
The petition drive, which opened last week at four centers in Westlake and on a door-to-door basis in the rest of the city, is going well, councilmen learned. Murphy said that as of Monday night 1000 Westlakers had signed the petitions. Exact tally in other sections was not known.

Blum asserted that petitions in the rest of the city are equally important. "The more signatures the better if we are to let the county know we mean business. Of course, the Westlake land reassessments are first, since the rest of the area won't be affected until next year."

"We want to make it clear that city-wide protests are urgent now. After all, next year the county will start reassessing other parts of the community. If we achieve something from this protest, the county will think twice when they act in future reappraisals," Blum added.

Petition Deadline
The city attorney said that petitions must be in by this Friday in order that specific checks can be made on individual property owners involved. Documentation by qualified authorities is absolutely essential, he indicated.

Involves 42 Homes

PERSHING 'QUEST' SPEEDIED BY BOARD

Final regular meeting of the fiscal year for Jefferson Elementary school district trustees Wednesday night saw the board approve a stepped-up schedule to acquire sorely needed school sites.

Assistant superintendent David Shapiro was authorized to begin "friendly negotiations" with some 42 homeowners in the Hanover street area, so that the district can acquire acreage

In Westlake alone, Blum pointed out, recent county land reassessments have gone over 100 percent of current valuation. In the majority of cases in Westlake, the reassessments are about 75 percent higher, "certainly an unfair situation," Blum emphasized.

County Date
The county will sit as a board of equalization next month to firm the 1957-58 tax rolls. Unless the petition protest by Daly City is given due consideration by the board of supervisors, Westlakers will be hit extremely hard.

Daly City was picked by the county ahead of several other communities in reassessment of land and property. This means that residents in other county areas will not be similarly affected for three or four years.

for the new General Pershing school.

Ten acres are recommended for the kindergarten through sixth grade school, which will include 12 classrooms. The district, however, will not need the full 10 acres, termed desirable by the state.

Affected Owners
Property owners involved are on Bellevue, Whitties, Lowell and Hanover streets.

The present Pershing school is inadequate to serve enrollment and will be sold when the new school is completed. Shapiro presented a letter to be sent the affected homeowners, explaining necessity of the new school and steps the district will follow.

He will contract two appraisers to assist in the negotiations. Funds for the site, and those necessary for the Westlake Basin property, have been allocated by the state.

Trustees believe the letters to homeowners will establish firm understanding and prevent necessity of delayed settlement through condemnation.

Franklin Additions
Another immediate objective by the district is negotiation with four homeowners on Stewart avenue, where approximately 1.9 acres are necessary for seven classroom additions to Ben Franklin school.

Shapiro advised trustees to move quickly for the Westlake Basin and new Pershing schools, pointing out that just enough local bond money is available to cover these projects. (Continued on Page 2)

Docs 'Hope' For DC Car Victim, 12

Grim-faced specialists today still nursed slim hopes for the life of a 12-year-old Colma school girl, still unconscious after being struck down by a car on Mission street last Saturday afternoon.

Jacqueline Yaeger, 465 San Diego avenue, underwent head surgery Tuesday in a desperate step by doctors at Mary's Help after she lapsed into a deep coma.

The girl's parents claim, "only prayer will save her now."

Slammed to the pavement when she tried to cross Mission at Alp street, Jacqueline suffered a skull fracture and severe brain damage. Surgery was undertaken to relieve pressure on the brain, but no blood clot was found.

Hospital officials said today the girl showed "slight improvement" earlier this morning. A nurse reported that Jacqueline responded through reflex when she asked a question.

Driver of the car was Frank P. Archini, 27, a painter of 267 Wyandotte street. Moving south towards the fast lane of traffic, he told officers he didn't see the girl "until it was too late." Three witnesses said they had to slam on their brakes in order to avoid Jacqueline seconds before. (Continued on Page 2)

Auto Man Drake Hears Final "No"

Car dealer Thomas Drake, whose license to operate was junked here in March, got the "final word" Wednesday night from the city council.

Losing his appeal in superior court last week, the 27-year-old salesman went before the council to request a 90-day stay "to terminate business matters here."

Drake's request fell flat as not one councilman was willing to mull the matter anew.

The city yanked Drake's license at 6854 Mission street after learning that he was convicted on five counts of illegal advertising last year in San Francisco.

The dealer used the "private owner" technique in soliciting business.

The council, on advice of City Attorney Frank Blum, held that under city ordinance Drake's license should be terminated because of the San Francisco misdemeanor.

THIS HAPPY scene will never be repeated in the home of Police Sgt. Dave Hansen of Daly City. Flanking boxer "Fritz" are Kathryn (left), 6, and Kristine, 8. The friendly dog disappeared several weeks ago. His body was discovered last week in a lonely grave not far from home a definite victim of foul play. Police are checking out all known dog-haters. The five Hansens, have lost a member of the family, for sure.

Launch Manhunt

Hansens Lose 'Member' Of Family

Poundmaster Charles Maschinot and Daly City police are looking for the meanest man in the world. And they don't intend to treat him lightly.

Subject of their investigation is a person or persons who lured, killed and buried police Sgt. Dave Hansen's pet boxer, "Fritz."

Fritz disappeared from the Hansens' front yard, 57 Garwood drive, on April 7. Neighbors reported having seen the dog the next day.

Last week, acting on a tip from children, Maschinot and Hansen uncovered a grave off Peoria street near Edgewood playground. They found decomposed remains of the animal, his collar and license. It all checked out.

Decomposition had so far progressed that the poundmaster was unable to determine exact cause of death. But foul play appeared the answer.

Fritz, a frisky family-loving canine, had survived two previous "plots" against him. Last year a neighbor hurled hot water on the dog for invading his yard. Before that, Fritz limped home after consuming some poison, presumably set by another dog-hater.

The loss hit the entire Hansen family hard, especially the girls, Kristine, 8, Kathryn, 6, and wee Karen, 3. Fritz was like a brother to them.

"I plan to get another dog as soon as the shock wears off," Hansen promised.

Meanwhile, the sturdy Marine combat veteran is a little anxious. Charges of grand theft and cruelty to animals await the person who did away with Fritz. The probe continues.

Vice Principal

At Colma School

Gets $1530 Raise

Lloyd Andrews, only full-time vice principal in Jefferson Elementary school district, was awarded a $1530 increase in annual pay Wednesday night by unanimous vote of trustees.

Entering his second year as next-in-charge at Colma intermediate school, Andrews' pay was upped from $6040 to $7570.

Trustees made the boost on recommendation of Superintendent H. Z. Weibel, Colma principal Dr. Bernard Gerdes, and the principals' salary committee. Each agreed that Andrews' current pay was unsatisfactory in view of his position and in line with recently granted pay hikes for the district's principals and teaching vice principals. In the case of the principals, top salary hike was $350.

Trustee Michael Callan at first said the increase for Andrews might seem unjustified in comparison to the $850 top hike for the principals. He changed his mind, however, after hearing praise of Andrews from Weibel and Dr. Gerdes. The board earlier considered bringing Andrews' salary up to par by splitting his increase, half this year and the rest the following year.

WAGE COMMITTEE FOR NORTH COUNTY TABS 5% HIKES

Wage stabilization committee of North County Council of Cities here Tuesday night recommended that annual pay raises for city employees should not exceed five percent, during a session at city hall.

The committee planned to consider a state personnel board report recommending uniform duty statements and salaries on key positions. But the report was not forwarded from Sacramento.

The final work will consist of installation of lockers, a stove and refrigerator, additional toilet facilities, and completion of various rooms.

City Manager Howard Stites said that about $20,000 has been set aside in the current budget for the project. Whether the balance of the money will come from capital outlay or projected in the 1957-58 city budget has not been decided by the council.

Would Halt Manager's Peak Sum

Councilman Michael DeBernardi left a "bomb" in the city council chambers Monday night. It is expected to explode this Friday night when the council holds its second adjourned meeting to firm the city's preliminary budget for 1957-58.

Foiled two weeks ago when he suggested that the whopping $1,463,000 budget for next fiscal year be returned to the city manager for slicing and that hiring be stopped, DeBernardi now has come up with a new "economy" plan. His proposal is being studied by fellow councilmen for consideration Friday.

Briefly, DeBernardi's proposal, if accepted, would mean an increase of only $97,920 over the 1956-57 budget instead of the "impractical" increase of about $275,000 suggested by the city manager in conjunction with department heads.

DeBernardi cited that the $97,920 includes some $73,000 in wages for city personnel granted last year "which is a must and we have to go along with it."

Although he was unable to disclose his idea for additional revenue to balance his budget proposal, DeBernardi said his suggestion "would hurt no department or mean a cut in services for citizens."

The DeBernardi plan would allow the city to remain on its current $1.48 per $100 assessed valuation tax rate. Current budget proposal would necessitate definite tax hikes to finance the expenditures.

The councilman's budget balancing proposal calls for eliminating "excess administrative personnel." He explained that these would include the city buyer and administrative assistant, five personnel in the finance department, assistant chief of police (a newly authorized position), director of public works, a civil engineer and a junior engineer. In the public works department alone, DeBernardi's slicing would amount to a saving of approximately $20,000.

MEAT DISPUTE TO BE AIRED HERE JULY 8

City councilmen in regular session Monday night set July 8 as date of a public hearing on the new protest movement to rescind the city ordinance which prohibits the sale of fresh meat in local markets after 6 p.m. on weekdays.

Only Councilman Paul Hupf voiced disfavor on reconsidering the matter.

"I'm opposed to changing the ordinance as it creates an unfair situation on the smaller markets. The prospect of authorizing Sunday sale of fresh meat here is bad," he declared.

Tragic irony department:
Last week's paper had a spread on traffic accidents, urging motorists to heed statistics.

At press time, JACQUELINE YAEGER, 12, struck down Saturday on Mission, is battling to live at Mary's Help hospital. After surgery Tuesday, the Colma school girl remained unconscious.

Again Tuesday, fate struck again. Bicycling MIKE KOSLOFF, 11, South City, was knocked to the pavement by a motorist at Junipero Serra-Alameda overpass. Multiple abrasions, contusions, and concussion.

Drivers can't be too careful. Less speed and more caution can save much heartbreak—for both victims and persons who run them down.

Current city trend for over-departmentalization will face the test at council election in 1958. Councilmen who go along with extravagant budget projection for 1957-58 may be looking elsewhere for political duty.

counted that "the pros and cons of the matter deserve to be heard in view of the number of people involved."

Letters urging that the council keep the ordinance were read from the San Francisco Meat Institute and the Retail Poultry Dealers and Fish association. Four independent proprietors also submitted letters asking that the ordinance be maintained.

The protestors on the ordinance thus far include 3139 residents who have signed petitions for repeal. They claim the ordinance is "obsolete because of modern refrigeration and the 6 p.m. restriction is a handicap on working people."

Another letter in the petition movement came from George Glasse, owner of Spotlite Market. He reminded that similar ordinances had been changed throughout San Mateo county.

Richard J. Dolwig, attorney for the petitioners, in a letter to the council, asked that the hearing be postponed two weeks. Meanwhile, petition signatures continue to mount. Gist of the controversy, according to the council, is whether a change in the ordinance would "affect the health and welfare of the people." Hupf maintained that the smaller operators must be considered, although he admitted that the number of signatures asking for the change was considerable.

Pershing 'Quest' Speeded By Board

Each will require an outlay of approximately $600,000. The district, he said, will have to go to the people next year to ask approval on additional state aid.

Settlement of the basin and Pershing negotiations, exhausting current funds, means the district will need a bond issue in 1958 to bring it to the limit in bonding capacity, thereby paving eligibility for more state aid.

Additional Needs
Projects hanging on the state aid request next year include Abraham Lincoln site and school, additional acreage for M. Pauline Brown site and school, two K-6 sites in St. Francis Heights subdivision, and an intermediate school site in the St. Francis Heights area.

The board drafted a letter Wednesday night to Zita Corporation officials specifying their proposal for three sites in the St. Francis Heights subdivision.

Confirming the agreement with McKee for 30 useable acres in the subdivision, the board moved to immediately purchase the 6.9 acre M. Pauline Brown site, located in the subdivision area, "but not considered in the 30 useable acres."

Litigation Delays
The district filed condemnation on the Brown site before the McKee's purchased the Zane property. Tied up in the courts since then, the purchase should be negotiated since McKee said he was willing to sell, even $10,000 under the district's appraisal price.

The board's letter to McKee stipulates the needs of two 10-acre K-6 sites, plus 10 additional acres of useable land to be included in an intermediate school site of from 20 to 25 acres. The remaining acreage for the intermediate school, the board indicated, could be located on land adjacent to the subdivision.

The district's letter, per previous verbal agreement with McKee, will allow the subdivision to prepare a formula for negotiations. McKee will recommend the sites, consistent with his street, grading, drainage and sewage plans.

Superintendent H. Z. Weibel suggested that the letter to McKee include that negotiations for the sites follow specifications of the state division of school planning. The board agreed, maintaining that three parties are necessary, particularly if "adjustments" are suggested by the state.

The district's bid for sites is based on student projections in keeping with McKee's announcement of 1280 homes for the subdivision.

SCHOOL BOARD, COUNCIL MULL USE OF PARK

Jefferson Elementary school district trustees will meet with the city council this Thursday night to discuss mutual projects, particularly suggested joint-use of Westlake park recreation facilities.

Superintendent H. Z. Weibel, acting on advice of the state, may ask that the city consider perpetual lease of Westlake park for use by children at the proposed Westlake basin school. This arrangement would mean that the district wouldn't need as much land on the basin site, subject of recent controversy.

Mayor Joe Verducci said Monday night that the city is investigating the park lease possibility "so we'll be able to have definite answers for the school board."

Thursday evening's meeting is open to the public and starts at 8 o'clock in city hall. Invited at the request of Councilman Paul Hupf are representatives of the Westlake Catholic Men and Women and the North San Mateo County Taxpayers association. These groups voiced protests on the Westlake basin condemnation move by the school board at the last trustee meeting.

Councilmen Vote New Water Tank By 4-1 Majority

By 4-1 vote, city councilmen accepted the city manager's recommendation Monday night to purchase a low bid, $11,981 water tank as a standby water facility while the Westlake reservoir is being repaired.

Lone dissenter was Councilman Michael DeBernardi who proposed purchase of an $18,000-plus steel tank, believing it "safer though more costly to maintain."

Councilman Del Wilson at first made a move to second DeBernardi's motion, but changed his mind after Public Works Director Otis Calhoun assured him the water tank was more feasible. Councilman Sanford Vickers said the majority had "economy and convincing guarantees in mind" in approving the 50,000 gallon redwood tank.

Schools Confirm Disaster Policy

Using questionnaires to parents as their guide, Jefferson Union High and Jefferson Elementary school district trustees recently formed a policy for evacuation of students in coordination with the city-wide disaster plan.

Their action will be documented in a civil disaster booklet, to be published soon for residents by the city of Daly City.

The policy:
"If children are not picked up by parents, the schools will evacuate them in transportation provided for that purpose. Prescribed evacuation routes will be followed to the reception area corresponding to the evacuation district in which the school is located."

"The children will be under supervision at all times. If there is no time for evacuation, children will be taken to the best existing shelter within their school."

"In the event of natural disaster, children will be held at the school until dismissal-time or such time as the schools are advised it is safe to send the children home."

De Bernardi Plants 'Bomb' On Budget

mately $26,000 in salaries. "We would not be eliminating these positions," he clarified, "but merely leaving them open for persons when the needs are evident."

DeBernardi charged that the city was expanding too much considering municipalities of similar assessed valuation. "As far as I'm concerned," he said, "people here are getting good service for the amount of revenue we're taking in."

DeBernardi frowns on excessive capital outlay on such projects as a new city hall and library. "I believe these should be determined by the will of the people via bond issues," he added.

Councilman Paul Hupf said Monday night he also will voice a proposal Friday on hacking the budget. Only three councilmen were present Thursday night for the budget session and little developed concerning means of additional revenue to balance the city manager's record budget proposal.

Police Department Fills 2 Vacancies

Two newcomers recently joined the regular ranks of Daly City's police department to fill the shoes of a pair who transferred to the San Francisco force.

The replacements are officer Richard L. Brewer, 1368 South Mayfair, and dispatcher William La Forest, 227 Modoc Place, Vallejo. Both were selected from the list of candidates who passed the city police exam.

NEW PICNIC IDEA

There's a clever new way to take sandwiches on a picnic. And that's new! Picnics and sandwiches have been matched for so long it's a moot question which came first—the sandwich or the picnic.

At one time going on a picnic meant getting up extra early to slice innumerable loaves of bread, put the spread on the loaves, and wrap what seemed like hundreds of sandwiches. The new, smart way of taking sandwiches on a picnic today is not to take them! Take the makings instead—and make the sandwiches at the picnic.

Make Sandwich Fillings
Pre-sliced bread and individual rolls, wrapped to remain fresh until used, do away with the need to slice and wrap ahead of time. The sandwich fillings go to the picnic in aluminum foil or light plastic containers, remaining crisp and juicy until the food is served. The side-dishes and beverages travel to the picnic right in the can or bottle, cold and refreshing as the moment you took them out of the refrigerator and placed them in an insulated bag or vacuum jug. Canned apple sauce is a happy choice for the picnic, whether you're adventuring to verdant woodland spot or surf or lake-lapped beach, or spending a comfortably lazy Sunday in the sun and shade of your own backyard. It provides pleasant zest to sandwiches, cold chicken and grilled hot dogs alike, and travels in its own can or jar without fuss.

Canned Juice
Apple juice is another delicious picnic choice, light enough to go with everything. Stock the picnic bag with a supply of the individual six-ounce cans, a box of straws and the all-important can-opener. Drink right from the can, with no worries about spilling the juice. Whatever's not used doesn't get opened and goes right home to the refrigerator again. And you can save the thermos for hot coffee that somebody's sure to want at the end of the day.

A sandwich spread that travels to the picnic, which children especially will delight in, is a simple mixture of cream cheese, nuts and canned apple slices. Chop the nuts and canned apples quite fine and blend with the cream cheese. Bring along raisin bread for the sandwiches.

A Shrimp-n-Apple sandwich is a specialty you can serve all year round at luncheons and bridge parties but it's quick and easy enough to make that it will be a happy addition to your picnic menu. Canned apple sauce, diced shrimp you can buy already cooked in cans or frozen, diced cucumber and slices of sweet pickle, with dressing, make the filling. For the sandwich, bring frankfurter or hamburger rolls and let the company have fun spreading their own.

SHRIMP-N-APPLE SANDWICH
1 1/2 cups diced cook shrimp
6 tablespoons diced cucumber
1/2 cup sliced sweet pickle
1 cup canned apple sauce
1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
8 frankfurter rolls
Combine shrimp, cucumber, sweet pickle, apple sauce and mayonnaise or salad dressing. Spread between split rolls. Yields 8.

CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

Edward D. Morgan, superintendent of Jefferson Union High School District, was "rewarded" for superior performance of duty Monday night by members of the board of trustees.

The board, in a unanimous and warm-hearted gesture, granted the superintendent a new four-year contract and $2500 boost in yearly pay.

For a man who assumed work here just a year ago, the move was indeed gratifying. He had not asked the salary hike, gearing his main recommendations to salary needs of the district's teachers, principals and classified staff.

Obviously, the board's action expressed sincere confidence in Morgan's efforts. As trustee Don Miller's letter, read by chairman Lyal Ingersoll, pointed out, the superintendent indeed has accomplished much since taking over last year.

The district was in sorry shape when Morgan arrived. Problems still are extreme, but the right man is at the helm.

Equipped with keen perspective, plus a remarkable understanding of people, Morgan is an invaluable member of the community. Respect for the administration, so often challenged in other districts, was never at a higher pitch.

This newspaper heartily backs this "vote of confidence" accorded the high school superintendent.

Morgan has been especially strong for the press, knowing the value of full cooperation in bringing the entire story to the people. He has never withheld the facts.

As in any organization, success of the school system depends on the caliber of the men at the top. In this category, Jefferson Union High School District is extremely fortunate.

Westlaker Gets 'Dimes' Boost For Research

Alan Joseph Davidson, medical student residing in Westlake, has been awarded a "March of Dimes" fellowship of $450 for special research in the biological and physical science related to medicine. It was announced today.

The fellowship is to finance extra-curricular study for nine weeks for Davidson at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, according to the announcement by Chairman Carl E. Ward of the local county Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Davidson, whose residence is 21 Park Plaza drive, has just completed his second year at the University of California medical school in San Francisco.

The purpose of such awards, chairman Ward added, is "to interest medical students in careers in research by giving them special opportunities for study in this field early in their schooling." Davidson was nominated by the dean of his school. These student fellowships are given to only two candidates from each approved medical school in the United States who have completed at least one year of their medical course, and who can devote two to three months full time to training in research, it was explained.

These "March of Dimes" fellowships and scholarships were said to be a part of the national polio foundation's professional education program which provides financial assistance for education in professional fields.

The awards and grants by the foundation to schools and professional associations "to assist in maintaining and improving standards and services" were reported to have reached a total of some $25,000,000 since the polio foundation was established in 1938 by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, himself a polio victim.

Letters To The Editor

Resident Claims Petition Method Best Via Courts

Dear Editor:

Perhaps you would not mind explaining why it is petitions on behalf of the people of this area are not handled in the same manner as petitions on behalf of business men who want to be heard. Why is it that all these property owner associations and groups have not had the petitions filled out to be filed in court and heard as they should be heard? Most of the homeowners pay dues to have their homes protected—at least that was supposed to be the purpose for which the associations were in existence—and yet not one of those associations has filed petitions on behalf of residents through the courts as they should be filed and heard. Why?

In the area I covered every property owner signed, except the ones who were not at home and could not be reached in the time allotted. Then on the front page you printed an article about "Blum Outlines Strategy; Petition Drive Opens," and on the same page "McKeons Settle Long Partition Suit" and on page 3 the letter about the arguments in Brisbane which duplicate much of the dissatisfaction in this area, but not one of the petitions that have been filed by the people have gone through the courts and so the people are not heard. Why is it that there is so much more work to getting a petition that is a waste of time and effort when the people could be heard through the courts and get fair treatment? Don't the people in this community have the same rights to be heard as an individual would get? Why is "strategy" necessary when the people could be heard in court and get honest consideration of their petition?

The constitution of the state of California specifically grants limited authority to units of government and yet petitions by the people have been ignored every time they have been taken to the board of supervisors or any other board. Why then do you allow the people to be oppressed by unfair practices when there is no necessity for the unfairness if the petitions are handled as they should be? The tax delinquent lists should show that the people are having difficulty right now and such difficulties always have been a result of unfair practices by their local boards. With all the attorneys there are in this area, why is it there has been no attempt to petition through the courts and protect the people and businesses of the community?

Sincerely,
MRS. W. H. BECK

VACATION RECREATION

Colma Summer Center Needs More Volunteers

Swamped with record-breaking attendance, Colma community center officials today again sounded the call for short-term volunteers to supervise children during the special summer recreation program.

"We do need more teachers and helpers," especially for substitutes," declared Mrs. M. Pauline Brown, Colma community center coordinator.

She reports that last week's center attendance amounted to 66 registered children. Total turnout June 17 to 21 was about 75 youngsters. Others present were 15 visitors, the staff of four teachers, three Girl Scout and three Boy Scout helpers.

Mrs. Brown lauded Jefferson Elementary school district officials for furnishing books, writing materials, crayons and furniture, Arts and crafts materials, she pointed out, are being supplied by teachers in the program.

Phases of the program include making string animals, copper tooling, writing and acting out stories, vocabulary games, butterfly mounting, supervised intermission play, and garden improvement club.

Recent center telephone troubles have been eliminated. Thanks to Playground Nursery, community center officials now have the telephone, PL 5-7961, at their disposal, between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The center will be closed from July 4 through July 8, Mrs. Brown said.

Colma community center is located on Dunks street between Washington and 92nd.

BPOA Announces Committee Heads

Appointments to major committees of the Broadmoor Property Owners association were announced by newly elected BPOA president Ed Lee at the initial meeting of the new board of directors, held recently at the Association headquarters on White street.

New appointments were those of immediate past president Bob Buchanan, who was named to head the civil defense committee; vice president Don Williams, chairman of the committee on tract restrictions; Rev. Harold Hare, Christmas program; Mrs. Mary Miceli, youth activities; and Adriano G. Delfino, publicity.

The association next month will undertake another of its tree-pruning projects, and chairman Nickas announced that written bids should be submitted not later than August 8 to BPOA, 714 White street, Broadmoor.

Veterans News

Deadline Nears For Vets' Widows On Survivor Pay

Most of the many thousands of veterans' widows who have not applied for compensation under the new Survivor Benefits Act—despite a lot of publicity urging them to act by July 1—know that they're doing, according to Floyd D. Granger, San Mateo County Veterans' Service Officer. The only ones who should act immediately are those who haven't informed themselves adequately about their choices.

"Many of these widows," said Granger, "are probably receiving Servicemen's Indemnity payments of $92.90 a month along with their compensation checks. Rather than give up the indemnity now, they'll file after they have received the entire $10,000 to which they are entitled. They would have to surrender this benefit in order to qualify for new-style Dependency Indemnity Compensation."

"The July 2 deadline is not absolute," Granger pointed out. "It terminates the right to have indemnity compensation payments dated back to January 1, but it does not terminate the right to apply at a future date and receive payments as of the day the VA gets an application."

Granger suggested that widows who haven't made up their minds can protect their interests by filing a so-called "informal" application before the deadline. This protects their retroactive benefits but the VA will not act until the formal election by a widow is subsequently received on the proper blank form.

"Our concern about veterans' widows should not cause us to neglect the thousands of dependent children affected by the Survivor Act," cautioned Granger. Most children, where there is no widow, will gain greater benefits under the new statute. Guardians must apply on their behalf. Persons should report to the San Mateo County Veterans' Service Office, Courthouse, Redwood City, for information and assistance.

Gary Ryan, of Boys' State, and Diana Delan, of Girls' State, will report to Daly City Post and Unit at the joint installation of officers on July 11. These young people will have many things of interest to tell us of the training they have had in the operation of our government.

Daly City Unit 410, American Legion Auxiliary, recently awarded Americanism Essay prizes to Monica Clarke and Judy Ricci of OLPB; Judy Reginaldi and Ann Champion of Crocker school; and Lee Ann Roscoe and Marilyn Oyata of Woodrow Wilson school. President Jean Chausse, Americanism chairman Gertrude Hatings, and secretary Anne Welch made the presentations.

Septemehr 1 opens the campaign for membership in all organizations. All veterans are urged to affiliate with these posts and units in order that we may continue to live a free life in a free country.

New Manager Named For California AA Office In Westlake

John A. Thackston has been appointed manager of the California State Automobile Association's Westlake district office, effective July 1. It was announced today by Clifford R. Ward, manager of the Department of Field Operations for the AAA motorists' organization.

Thackston is being promoted to the management from the association's Oakland office where he is serving as sales manager and where he first became associated with the CSAA as sales representative in 1947.

Jack C. Calbert, present manager of the Westlake office, will become manager of the San Carlos district office.

A valid CAA pilot's certificate at the time of appointment.

July 5 is also the final application date for an examination scheduled for Attorney III, Division of Contracts and Rights of Way. The positions pays $745-$905.

State examinations with a July 12 application deadline are: Associate Engineering Personnel Examiner, $644-$782; Public Utility Financial Examiner II, $505-$613; State Traffic Officer, $436-$530; Supervising Animal Caretaker (men only), $310-$376.

Detailed information and application forms are available at the State Personnel Board in Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles, or at department offices of employment office.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Home Owners Assn. Not Responsible For Annex Move, Brisbaner States

Dear Editor:

Two recent articles in your paper concerning the community of Brisbane have disturbed me considerably, with the result that I offer for your readers the following observations:

First of all, your article "19 Brisbaners Petition SSF on Annexation" stated that "A petition bearing signatures of 19 members of the Brisbane Homeowners Association" was presented. This is an erroneous and misleading statement, and infers indirectly that the home owners association was responsible for the move. This is completely incorrect as the general membership of the organization has in no way endorsed or circulated such a petition.

A study of the possibilities of annexation and preliminary talks with SSF is being considered, but no meeting has been held as yet. One is scheduled this week. These people as individuals have a perfect right to circulate such a petition, but the use of the home owners association name is incorrect.

The second article is headlined "Brisbane Reports on Meeting Held 'One-Sided,'" and is a letter from a resident of Brisbane.

Here again, there is an incomplete statement of fact and some clarification is necessary for proper understanding. The letter mentions that Mr. Field attempted to recall the officers (Mr. With and Mr. Coffey) but states that "Mr. Coffey tried to do the same thing to us (We assume that recall is meant here) because as members of the home owners association we were backing Steve Rewak."

Now for the clarification: There was NO attempt to recall the committee for the election of Stephen Rewak. There WAS a move to censor this committee for using the organization's name for political purposes without the consent of the general membership. The organizations name was used on campaign literature for the election of Stephen Rewak and the By-Laws specifically prohibit such use. The writer of the letter does not mention that after some discussion the members who sponsored the move to censor compromised in the interests of harmony for the organization and tabled this resolution indefinitely. The feeling was that the school election was over and any further discussion or dissension on it would be futile. In short, the feeling was that the organization's time could be put to much better use for constructive projects.

Now, as much as we would all like to forget about the school election and work for other things in the community, there are those who refuse to let us. We have seen forewarnings of doom on our bulletin board and now the notation in your paper "Wait Until We Get Our Tax Bills in November." It is as if some great catastrophe is going to befall us because we will have to pay $12 or a few more dollars a year so that our children may have proper educational facilities, competent teachers and a progressive school program.

There are many things which the people of this community cannot provide for their children, but one thing they can have given is a sound education foundation. This in essence amounts to that golden word "opportunity" for education opens the doors to many opportunities otherwise denied, and if we close the door of education or restrict the facilities we deny, our youth, not only do we cheat them but we undermine our whole democratic way of life.

Isn't an increase then of a little over a dollar a month in our tax rate a petty thing to quibble about when what is involved is basic education? Not only for this but for future generations. I think so and ap-

Francis, who successfully authored major legislation during the past session, will speak on bills recently passed in the fields of water development, education aid, state budget, appropriations, tideland oil revenues, mental health, natural resources development, highway safety, workmen's benefits, legislation reorganization and interim studies.

State Gas Tax Means $100,255 For Daly City

Daly City has received $100,255 and Colma $1899 as their share of state gasoline tax revenues for city street work and engineering for the current fiscal year, it was announced today.

The gas tax distributed to cities for street work is the revenue from five-eighths of a cent per gallon out of state gas taxes paid by highway users and is apportioned by the state on a population basis.

The additional allocation to cities for engineering, also apportioned on a population basis, is taken from other state highway funds and varies from a minimum of $1000 for cities under 5000 population to a maximum of $20,000 for cities with more than a half a million people.

Daly City will get all but $6000 of the total for city street work. Colma is due $1000 in the engineering category.

GOVERNMENT NEEDS CIVIL ENGINEERS FOR L. A. REGION

Job opportunities for positions of civil engineer with the Los Angeles Corps of Engineers were announced today by the 12th U.S. Civil Service Regional Office. Salaries range from $4480 to $7035 a year. The majority of positions will be in the Los Angeles area. A few positions will be filled in other California, Arizona, and Nevada locations.

Persons who have a minimum of four years of technical engineering experience or a combination of engineering experience and education may apply for positions paying $4480. College graduates and students who have had the required courses have an opportunity to qualify in the examination by taking and passing a written test. Additional experience or education is required for positions paying higher salaries.

Further information and application forms for these and many other engineer positions open in federal agencies in California, Nevada and overseas may be obtained from the 12th U.S. Civil Service Regional Office, 630 Sansome street in San Francisco.

FIRE

Never toss a lighted cigarette or cigar butt from your car when driving through the country, advises the National Automobile Club. One burning butt can burn down a forest.

Apparently the people of Brisbane thought so too for they did vote for the increase and not by only three or four votes. I for one shall be very glad to pay my tax bill this year, for it is my feeling that the cheapest and most worthwhile dollar ever spent is the dollar spent on the youth of the community. And furthermore, I sincerely commend our school board in having the foresight and desire to plan for the future. A pay as you go plan seems the only sensible one in these days of rising costs.

In this letter you printed there are also innuendos and inferences that the election was not fair. This sounds very much like "sour grapes" to me. Individuals who have taken this attitude have much to learn about fair play and sportsmanship and the art of accepting an election defeat graciously.

The election is over. Let us forget it, cheerfully pay our taxes, and devote our time and energies to more important matters.

Sincerely,
JANIS WITH

Rec Commission Pushes Parking At Marchbanks

City recreation commission Tuesday night suggested a long-term lease with Southern Pacific company for use of railroad-owned property to improve parking facilities at Marchbanks park.

Forwarded to the city council will be the commission proposal to negotiate for a frontage area of some 400 feet on North Parkview, running south to the park property line.

Dee Van Nest, city parks and recreation director, termed present facilities "woeful." Added maintenance problems at the park have resulted, he explained.

Under the suggested lease, the city would do the black-topping in the desired parking area. An estimate on costs of this project has not been prepared, however.

In other business Tuesday, the commission:

1. Appointed Mrs. Ann Eason to represent commission at the JESD-city council meeting Thursday night.

2. Approved five-year city master plan and forwarded recommendations to council.

3. Approved request of Crocker-Pershing PTA for use of War Memorial building for fund-raising dance. Rental fee was waived.

4. Authorized letter of commendation to resigning commissioner Mrs. Ann Carlson.

TRUSTEES SPEED COAST PARCELS FOR HI SCHOOL

Acquisition of two more parcels of land to bring Jefferson Union High School District's Sharp Park school site up to the necessary 50 acres neared a quick settlement today.

Builder Ray Higgins, Coast-sider who holds option to one of the 10-plus acre parcels, informed trustees Monday night that their bid of $37,500 for his parcel east of the current site is acceptable.

Higgins indicated the transaction should be firm by July 10.

Superintendent Edward Morgan, meanwhile, reported that negotiations for the other parcel west of the site will be pressed after the district studies topographical maps on the said parcel.

The district currently owns about 29 acres for its third high school in Sharp Park. State officials recommend 50 acres for the school, which should be ready by late 1960.

Vandals Continue Raids On Schools

School vandals continued their periodic raids over the weekend, hitting Colma school and the Vista Grande school under construction.

Janitor Fred Klinger said raiders Sunday threw gravel from the roof, detached a fire hose and scattered drain covers at Colma school. The loss, mostly a hose nozzle, amounted to $30, he estimated.

At Vista Grande, off Thiers and Wyandotte streets, culprits broke at least 160 concrete blocks by dumping them off a scaffolding. Contractor Jack Mullany reported the loss at $60. The Vista Grande raid was the second in two weeks, according to police.

Parents of juveniles caught in vandalistic raids on school property will be required to pay damages to the school district, police reminded.

Francis Announces Legislative Council Meeting For Mayors

Assemblyman Louis Francis announced today that a meeting of the Mayors' Legislative Council of the 25th State Assembly District will be held at San Bruno City Hall at 8 p.m. next Tuesday. This will be the first meeting of the council since the adjournment of the recent general session of the State Legislature on June 12.

The lawmaker said the agenda will include his legislative report to the cities in his district, as well as the Junipero Serra boulevard problem.

I sincerely urge all mayors or their representatives to attend this important meeting, because it is imperative that we fully cooperate with each other in the solution of the problems of our district, the legislator said. With the rapid and tremendous growth of our cities, these problems are increasing each month, he added.

The Mayors' Legislative Council was organized by Francis last year for the purpose of discussing and coordinating the problems and needs of the municipal governments. Another purpose was to give continuous and complete representation of the people in his district in the State Legislature.

Rose Heffron Becomes Mrs. Clayton Halsey

Miss Rose Heffron of Daly City and Clayton Halsey of Seattle were united in marriage recently in a well-attended ceremony at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church.

Father Joseph Garrity officiated before a large audience of relatives and friends.

The couple spent their honeymoon in glamorous Las Vegas. They have made their residence in San Francisco.

The bride, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Heffron, 244 Frankfort street, is employed by the Department of the Army at the Presidio. She is a graduate of Jefferson High.

The benediction, who works for Life Reserve Insurance Company, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Halsey of Seattle, he also attended Everett Junior College.

Miss Heffron's wedding dress was of chintilly lace with a sweetheart neckline. The skirt consisted of six alternating tiers of chintilly lace and nylon tulle, with a chintilly panel down the front. Her white orchid bouquet was surrounded by white carnations and stephanotis. The veil was a coronet of chintilly lace embellished with pearls with a fingertip arrangement of nylon tulle.

Mrs. Geraldine Tamburini was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Beverly Smith and Dorothy Brown. Stan Yarnold served as best man, and John Tamburini and Don Horanzy were ushers. Margaret Heffron was junior bridesmaid.

For her going-away costume, the bride wore a navy blue faille dress with empire waistline and white standaway collar. The navy blue and white theme was carried out in her accessories.

Special guests for the nuptials were the groom's parents from Seattle.

The reception at Colombo Hall was attended by 250 persons.

Peak Enrollment Seen For Temple's Religious School

According to the latest reports, a record-breaking enrollment is anticipated for the fall term of Temple Judea Religious School. New students are being registered every day. Rabbi Leo J. Stillpass indicated.

"This rapidly growing measure to the excellent facilities now available at the Westlake elementary school for use of children of the Religious School on Sunday mornings."

NEW KPIX SERIES FOR KIDS TELLS INDIAN HERITAGE

"Adventures in Friendship," new television series sponsored by the San Francisco Council of Churches, started Sunday at 10 a.m. over KPIX, channel 5. The program featuring a study of American Indians and Japanese culture, is geared for an audience of youngsters who do not regularly attend church school sessions.

Miss Beverly Fox, Christian education director of the council, will introduce each week, for the first six weeks of the series, American Indians from this area who will give the legend and lore of their heritage.

Marion Wickham's classmates included Claire Williams of Broadmoor, Luella Flaherty of Westlake, Margot Juner of Daly City, Pat Clarkson of Garden Village, and Caroline Sullivan of South San Francisco. All of these women are now qualified to help meet the demand for the textbooks, which are so necessary, and the story books, which are so special, in helping blind children learn along with their sighted classmates and explore the land of books for themselves.

DC ROTARIANS NAME RICHTER NEW PRESIDENT

Saturday night marked the fourth installation of officers of the Daly City Rotary Club in a gala affair at Brentwood Lodge. After "a very successful year," Robert E. Watson Jr. handed the gavel to Rudolph A. Richter, who will preside for the year of 1957-58.

Other officers installed: Donald Davis, vice president; T. Parks Harris, secretary; Carl Sotter, treasurer; board of directors, Robert E. Watson Jr., Herbert E. Sharpe and Edward Morgan.

The club is anticipating another progressive year under the leadership of Richter. He is well known in the Daly City area, having established his business, "Interiors by Richter," in the Westlake shopping center 2½ years ago after having been established in San Francisco for 28 years. Richter is widely known in his profession and in club and fraternal circles as well.

Kenny Wickham BROADMOOR BLIND YOUTH 'EYES' A TRULY WONDERFUL SUMMER

By Gwin Mitchell

Kenny Wickham of Gilman drive in Broadmoor had a seventh birthday party this past week. It was quite a party, with cake and ice cream and all the neighborhood children there to enjoy it. Kenny's mother, Marion, and her neighbor, Ruthmary Warner, planned the special event and were there to see that everyone had a good time.

It was more than just a birthday party, though; it was a going away party as well, for Kenny is one of the lucky children who will go to camp this summer. He'll have two months of fun and projects at Clearwater Ranch, a year-round camp in Mendocino county for children with special needs. Kenny, you see, is blind, but that won't keep him from catching the salamanders that slide out from under the smooth rocks in the wading stream, or enjoying all the other exciting things which happen to a boy at camp in the country in the summertime.

Kenny Wickham is going to have one wonderful summer.

Meanwhile, his mother, Marion, is going to be busy working on some of the three-dimensional books for the special class for blind children to be held in Woodrow Wilson school this coming September. The books are an extra project which Marion learned at the Braille class she attended in San Bruno this past year. She, and four other mothers from this area, learned first how to translate textbooks and story books into the raised-dot combinations which make up the Braille system, and then added the fun of making the raised pictures for the story books.

The Braille class is one of several held this past year in the county, and was sponsored by the College of San Mateo and the 17th District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers. The district maintains a Braille library, from which textbooks are lent as needed to blind children and teachers throughout California.

Marion Wickham's classmates included Claire Williams of Broadmoor, Luella Flaherty of Westlake, Margot Juner of Daly City, Pat Clarkson of Garden Village, and Caroline Sullivan of South San Francisco. All of these women are now qualified to help meet the demand for the textbooks, which are so necessary, and the story books, which are so special, in helping blind children learn along with their sighted classmates and explore the land of books for themselves.

Homebuilders Cite Slowdown, Say Profits Drop

Builders are making less profit on new homes and home buyers are getting more for their money now than at any time in recent history, it was reported today by John I. Hennessy, executive vice president of the Associated Home Builders of the Greater Eastbay.

In making public the results of an economic survey conducted by the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB), Hennessy reported that rising costs to builders are being absorbed rather than passed on to the buying public. Principal item in the increased cost picture are materials, labor, land, community facilities and "selling."

The survey also revealed that builders across the nation expect housing starts for 1957 to be at least 20 per cent below those of last year. In actual production this means 900,000 dwelling units against last year's 1,100,000. This builder estimate is only one per cent off official statistic which shows a current decline of 19 per cent.

Average selling price of today's home nationally is $14,800, Hennessy said, noting that production of homes in the lowest price brackets continues to shrink. In 1957 there will be 26 per cent fewer homes produced in the "under $10,000" bracket. At the other extreme, homes built to sell for $20,000 or more show an increase of 31 percent. The most stable production is in the $12,500-$15,000 bracket with only a 3 per cent decline from 1956.

A major factor in the price rise over the past five years, Hennessy said, has been the added size and features of new houses. The survey shows that 58 percent of the 1957 homes have more than one bathroom as against 52 percent in 1956—(and only 10 percent in 1950). Average floor area of the homes being built this year is also up an acre stands at 1,140 square feet.

Builders also reported that they expect little change in the financing picture during the remainder of the year although Hennessy reported there has been a noticeable "loosening" of mortgage funds in the Bay Area in the past few weeks.

SALINAS RUSHES FINAL PLANS FOR CALIFORNIA RODEO

Preparations for Salinas' annual "Big Week" moved into a gallop today with a warning that Monday, July 1, is the final day for entries in the California Rodeo, July 11 to 14.

The deadline applies not only to arena and track contestants but also to candidates for "Sweetheart" of the California Rodeo, William T. Bramers, president of the great western cowboy classic said.

"Big Week" will "kick-off" in traditional manner with the Big Hat Barbecue sponsored by the Monterey County Sheriff's posse at their Natividad road grounds this Saturday. Directors of the rodeo will join the lawmen at the 50-foot barbecue pits to assist in serving up more than a ton of sizzling steaks, bushels of beans, gallons of coffee and lots of lettuce grown in this "Salad Bowl of America."

As a further inducement to "go Western" the Merchants' Committee of the Salinas Chamber of Commerce will again sponsor contests among their members for best Western dressed employees and best window displays in a western theme.

Something For Everyone

By The Staff Of The Daly City Public Library

American is experiencing an unprecedented boom in boating, according to experts. This year more than 30,000,000 persons—equal to the total participants in golf, tennis, and bowling—will be afloat in pleasure craft of all types. Many of them, judging by demand for books about various aspects of boating at the Daly City Public Library and its Westlake-Broadmoor Branch, will be persons from Daly City and the surrounding area.

To meet the demand for information and instruction on boating, numerous handbooks on all aspects of this popular sport have been published in recent months. Many of these titles are available at the local libraries.

Information for boat owners can be found in such volumes as Jerry Mason's The Complete Book of Small Boats and Robert Scharff's Complete Boating Handbook.

For those who wish to build their own craft, the Library offers such titles as Boatbuilding: A Complete Handbook of Wooden Boat Construction, by Howard I. Chapelle; Motor Boats, by William Atkin; The Boat Book, published by Popular Mechanics Press; and Building The Small Boat, by Cliff Bradley. There are also such classic older titles as Edwin Monk's Small Boat Building; Edson I. Schock's How To Build Small Boats; and Edwin J. Schoettle's Sailing Craft.

The related fields of seamanship and navigation are equally important for owners of any kind of pleasure boat. Some recommended titles are Olson's Small Boat Seamanship, by Rear Adm. Louis B. Olson; Piloting and Navigating in Coastal and Inland Waters, by E. M. Savage, a particularly valuable book for this area; Small Boat Navigation, by Frank Ward Sterling; How to Navigate Today, by Marion R. Hart; and, of course, the "grand-daddy of them all," The American Practical Navigator, by Nathaniel Bowditch.

Other useful titles are Hank Bowman's Encyclopedia of Outboard Motorboating; Knots and Splices, by C. L. Day; and The Ashley Book of Knots, by C. W. Ashley. The library also has many books on making model boats of all kinds, as well as volumes on the history of ships and stories of famous vessels.

Remember that your public library has something for everyone, and that for up-to-date information on any subject, try your public library first. In Daly City your public libraries are located at 6351 Mission street and 34 Park Plaza drive, in Westlake shopping center.

Dr. Irwin Silberstein officially opened the Court of Honor and turned the affair over to Scoutmasters Al Belotz and Mel Wilner, who with the help of various troop committeemen, presented the following Scout awards:

Crocker-Pershing 'Kidnap' Episode Thrills Victims

"I've heard of the coffee kidnap, but I never dreamed it would be this morning," declared Mrs. J. Blowburger, Crocker-Pershing PTA member who was taken hostage to the home of Mrs. E. M. Hedrick, president of the unit, and hostess for the first coffee kidnap last week.

The 11 women who gathered for coffee and homemade cinnamon rolls discussed everyday problems of parents with small children, which many of the mothers brought with them.

Mrs. G. Bender of Frankfurt street, there with two small sons, said she was amazed to see such a wide area of the district represented. Mrs. L. Gertz, another of the surprised victims, was anxious to hear more details about the PTA dance to be held on July 26 at Daly City War Memorial building.

St. Martin's Girls Voice Praise Of Youth Conference

Having represented St. Martin's Episcopal church in the diocesan senior youth conference at Rancho del Obispo, near Healdsburg, Colleen Brugge, Allene Downey, and Kathleen Macklin returned to their Westlake homes Saturday and reported making many new friends for themselves and their home church during their six-day stay at the ranch under the Rev. Canon David R. Forbes, senior conference dean.

Approximately 60 high school juniors, seniors, and graduates from all Bay area counties, as well as Santa Cruz, Monterey, and San Luis Obispo, convened at the ranch June 16 for a co-educational program of religious education, sports, and recreation.

Divided into four "teams," each with a clergyman advisor, they assembled daily for holy communion in the ranch chapel. Breakfast was followed by discussion groups, a songfest, and swimming. Afternoons were spent at outdoor sports, the "teams" competing against each other; evenings were occupied in the "chapel's hour" during which the Rev. Dr. R. M. Rodenmayer of the Church Divinity School of the Pacific in Berkeley replied to student questions, and with games or dancing and fireside fellowship in the spacious ranch house.

Since housing accommodations are limited, each church may send not more than four delegates to each conference. Taking place this week is the intermediate session for high school freshmen and sophomores. The junior session, July 14-20, will be for seventh and eighth grade graduates. Further information may be had from the Rev. Allen J. Downey, vicar of St. Martin's 94 Palmdale avenue, telephone PL 6-3514.

Our sad-faced friend is Bill McGoo,
Who thought he'd bought a car brand-new;
And while he got a "special deal"
His disappointment he can't conceal
While others drive in Swept-Wing style
Poor Bill just mutters curses vile:
"They got new styling, features, too—
"I bought a 'deal'—boo-hoo, boo-hoo!"

Moral: Yesterday's looks and features are no bargain at any price!

No car is a bargain if it's obsolete in styling and engineering features. And the Swept-Wing Dodge actually obsoletes other cars in its field with its low, low look of tomorrow and revolutionary advances like Torsion-Aire Ride, Push-Button TorqueFlite and Total-Contact Brakes. So don't get "bargain-talked" into yesterday's styling and features. The same money buys the car that's years ahead. See your Dodge dealer. Join the swing to the Swept-Wing Dodge.

Two For Tonight

By Leonora Brewster

Robert Ruark's "Something of Value" is a long and at first leisurely, easy-going novel of black and white relationships in Africa immediately prior to and during the Mau Mau terror. It takes it a while to get started but when it reaches the terror that begat terror and the violence that begat violence, it fully lives up to the author's foreword: "This is not a pretty book, nor was it written for the pre-bedtime amusement of small children."

That was two years ago, when McGraw bought it. It's playing at Loew's Warfield now, and on the whole the transition from a 560 page book to a 113-minute screen play has been accomplished very competently.

The obscene rituals used by the Mau Mau that begat counter rituals even more degrading which were so clinically detailed in the novel, are of course watered down, but enough of the violence remains to make a strong impression on the viewer. Like the book, it is not suitable for the kiddie matinee trade.

Exceptional Job

Rock Hudson does okay by the role of Peter, white hunter and friend of Kimani (Sidney Poitier). Poitier does an exceptional job as the African brought up side by side with his white friend but destined by birth to go one way while Peter goes another. Resentment of his destiny impels him to join the Mau Mau.

Dana Wynter is starred as Peter's young wife, but the supporting performances of Wendy Hiller as Peter's sister who sees her husband and children massacred before her eyes, and Juana Hernandez as the Mau Mau leader are more memorable.

Overly Simplified

Inevitably, changes have been made both in plot and character development and the story suffers accordingly. In addition, the Mau Mau problem is considerably oversimplified. One receives the impression that if these two strong men (Peter and Kimani) could just meet over a gin and lime, the dirty business could be settled by the time they order a third round.
We were glad that it was filmed in black and white rather than technicolor. Color is inclined to lend a holiday atmosphere to a film, and despite the changes obviously to lighten the heart of the audience, "Something of Value" is still a grim story and in no way is it typical African safari adventure tale.

Just for curiosity, we checked with the Daly City Library. A line is forming on the right for Ruark's sensational novel.

that caution and warnings are necessary to avoid personal injury and property damage.

Petrochi also pointed out that scores of children throughout the country are hurt in blasting cap accidents.

"You can't play safe with a blasting cap," he pronounced.

Blasting caps are short, shiny, pencil-size cylinders, one and one-half to five inches long. They are made of aluminum or copper and often exposure to air and moisture will dull the metal tube. But, Petrochi emphasized, the sensitive explosive inside is still dangerous.

"A child picking up a blasting cap is in deadly danger," the chief continued. He urges persons who find blasting caps to immediately report the discovery to police or any law enforcement agency.

Behind this huge glass window is where NBC's popular weekend service program, "Monitor" (KNBC, Fri. Sat. As we stood looking in, a lovely red-headed girl passed, and Jim Holton, supervising editor for the program, introduced us. She was "Miss Monitor," whose voice is so familiar to listeners. She told us that she receives a great deal of mail from our area. We then entered the studios and met George Erwin, producer for "Monitor," who showed us a round and gave us a fine explanation of the organization of the program. With a large staff, it is almost like a little radio station complete in itself, with all departments represented including music, sports, news and writing. The entire program is scripted.

As a climax we were privileged to step inside the large studio while "Monitor" was on the air. Two noted NBC stars, Hugh Downs and Peter Roberts, were broadcasting. As we sat there the microphone light-

Krohn Gives DC Drug Nine First Loop Win

Barry Krohn struck out four batters giving only five hits as Daly City Drugs beat St. Stephens 7-2 Saturday in the Class D Recreation League opener at West Sunset diamond.

Mike O'Leary lead his mates at bat with two for two and two runs batted in. Mike was thrown out at home after trying to stretch a triple in the second, but he sacrificed a run home in the third, and socked in another with a hit to left in the fifth.

George Claus, Terry Christman and Krohn each scored after hitting to get on. St. Stephens picked up one tally in the fifth and another in the sixth when Buddy Haskell, Saints' catcher, rapped a long one to left and came home after stealing second. Claus caught a deep fly and threw to Christman for a double play to end the game.

Billy Ludwigsen pitched a seven-inning shut-out over Milano INN Sunday at Marchbanks winning, 6-0. O'Leary had another good day. His homer and single gave him two for two with two RBIs and scoring three times. The Chrichton-Krohn kids had their hitting clothes on as singles were stroked by Claus, Bill Hynes, Mike Rovai, John Bennett twirled a sparkling two-hitter Saturday as the Broadmoor Youth Association Midgets swamped St. Stephens, 16-0, at Balboa Park.

Ron Johnson entered in the sixth to finish on the hill. He yielded but one base hit.

Big stickier in the 13-hit BYA attack was Bruce Hix. He swatted a homer, triple and double. Barney Colangelo, Jim Fisher and Johnson slammed triples. Doubles were stroked by Bennett and Carl Carpenter.

Singles by Wayne Stroller, Larry Ward and Dan Dempsey rounded out the BYA barrage. The losers made three errors, while BYA muffed but one chance.

Impressive in their Junior Managers League debut, the BYAers drew a bye this weekend. Next foe will be Westlake Flying A at noon on July 6, Balboa park.

This was the report of Dee Van Nest, city parks and rec director, who added, "attendance at the 13 supervised sites has reached a new high, and is mounting daily."

Garden Village school reported the biggest turnout—some 425 children participating in a multitude of activities.

Special activities underway include tennis, arts and crafts, story-telling and movies. Archery, boxing, tumbling, and a baseball school at Marchbanks, begin next week.

Playground leaders are taking sign-ups for softball leagues, tournaments and still more activities. Copies of the summer schedule are available at all sites.

All playgrounds except Marchbanks and Westlake parks will be closed on July 4 for the holiday, Van Nest said. Special events are charted each week. This Thursday, the kickoff outing was a trip to Fleishhacker zoo in San Francisco. Next Wednesday, each playground will stage a pet parade and show. Children should pick up entry forms at the playgrounds next Monday and Tuesday. All types of animals are eligible—dogs, cats, rabbits, ducks, birds, and even fish and turtles. Participants are encouraged to "dress up" their pets. All entries must be on leashes, in cages or in containers. Awards will be made in many categories.

Westlake school — On Tuesday mornings, children await arrival of Mary Wilson and Memory Gomez, two storytellers. They'll be back July 2 with another magic bag of books. Effective this week are program changes: tennis, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, 9:30 to 12; crafts, Wednesday at 10 a.m. for ages six to nine, at 11 o'clock for ages 10 and over; dancing, Tuesday afternoons at 1 o'clock.

Manager Ross Holmgren's team consists of Rich Pagano, Frank Knowlton, Joe Baboschi, Jim Nash, Ricky Huebsch, Steve Lamanet, Rich Levy, Fred Arneke, Steve Pollak, Jeffery Becker, Dwayne Moran, Jack Eichelberger. Skipper John Rice directs Rich Ostrow, Greg Agar, Joe Bruning, Ken Burkey, Dennis Mori, Dennis Beach, Buzz Ewing, Jeffery Benard, Mike Bush, Tom Golding, Bob Pucci, Mike Ednoff, Bobby Peivank. Manager David Bosbery pilots BobHage, Ron Stefani, Dante Profumo, Martin Jaspovic, Mike Krnich, Bob Landucci, Bob Verducci, Dan Alberti, Steve Bruning, Bill Hage, John Ednoff, Jim Coyne, David Pucci.

Marchbanks — Boys interested in boxing and tumbling should sign up immediately. Interested thus far are Jimmy Michael, Jerry Houghton, Norman Garcia, Richard Garcia, Ron Morris, John Lobsinger, John May, Allen Jones, Jim Hunley, John Walton, Walter Lobsinger and Alex Mattson.

July 2 marks opening day of Junior Baseball Clinic at Marchbanks. Rich Warne will instruct all boys between the ages of 10 and 15.

'Phenom' Cereghino Quits Baseball

By Roy Hurlbert

Daly City's Eddie Cereghino, Jefferson High's greatest pitcher and a $75,000 purchase for the New York Yankees, has called it quits and probably never again will pitch in a professional baseball game.

Heavily disappointed but not wishing to "hurt anyone's feelings" in the Yankee organization, the 24-year-old right-hander left the Class AAA Richmond club in the New York chain last month. He's back home at 236 Hillcrest drive.

With three children and a lovely wife to look after, a comfortable home, plus a business tieup with his father, blond Ed has enough to keep him occupied. And his $75,000 bonus, granted in 1951 when he left the prep scene, guarantees an optimistic future. The sturdy athlete, tabbed six years ago as a sureshot Yankee mound great, had the misfortune that befalls many hopefuls in baseball's bonus business.

His reasons for abandoning his prime objective—to pitch in a New York uniform—easily are explained.

"Since 1955," he told this reporter, "the Yankees have had me on a minimum schedule. That is, I've been used in just spot duty—relief, with some starting duty."

"Then this spring I came up with a sore arm in spring training after I was tabbed as one of Richmond's four regular starters. Well, Ed Lopat gave me a couple of weeks rest, and I was ready to go again. Things, though, just didn't work out, and I decided not to report to New Orleans for the Richmond series."

Ed's failure to report, which he discussed with the Yankee front office, meant an automatic suspension. Carefully thinking it over, before and after, Cereghino figures he's better off. A look at his progress from his first pro venture through this spring, indicates that maybe he made the right move.

The Yanks inked Ed right after he hurled his final game for Jeff in 1951. His first professional stint that year was with the SF Seals—a 17-year-old working against the best in baseball's second highest classification. Ed showed all the earmarks. His 4-6 mark with the Seals convinced the Yankees their money was well invested.

Next season, Larry MacPhail and the New York brass moved Eddie closer to Yankee stadium. Closer than the Coast, at least. As a starter for Kansas City, he fashioned a 10-8 slate, pretty fair for an 18-year-old one year removed from high school.

In 1953, Ed had a 2-4 KC record before the Yanks decided to demote him to Binghamton in the Eastern League. Ed didn't mind because it meant more starting jobs. And he knew he needed the experience. He didn't disappoint at Ginghamton, posting a 13-1 record and a 2.70 ERA.

Kansas City grabbed him again in 1954. He worked hard and often, finished with an 11-14. Stronger than ever, Eddie and his many well-wishers thought the time was ripe for his move to the big time. So did the Yankees.

But then the meltdown from baseball's biggest dynasty came. In 1955, the Ed Cereghino story took the first turn that was to route him from the game he loves so well.

The Yanks asked him to spring training. He looked good, Casey Stengel allowed. But perhaps the Yank skipper felt Ed wasn't quite ready to push another starter out of a job.

Also, Ed had off-the-field concerns. The wife was about to have their second child. So young Cereghino asked that he be sent to the Coast. McPhail and company worked a deal with Sacramento. Ed worked there in just a few games. Then NY yanked him to Toronto. A few months later, he was transferred again, this time to Denver in the Western League. For the year and three shifts, Ed managed a dismal 2-4 record, working mostly in relief. He began to have his doubts on the Yankee front office. Were they expecting him to develop into a starter by pitching relief in a lower classification?

Last year, the Yanks started Ed in Denver, but the moguls stepped in still again and shuffled him off to Richmond. A 3-9 record there didn't impress the New York magnates.

Dismal Outlook

And Ed's doubts tripled this spring after he came up with a sore arm. Now he can't see much hope of making the grade—Yankee stadium. And financially, he can afford not to go through more shuffling in the minors.

Ed is pretty certain he's through with the game. The proud Yanks have lost on a $75,000 investment. A gamble that seldom fails for that organization.

Anyway, it couldn't have happened to a nicer guy. But who, knows? Cereghino may get the bug again next spring.

Eddie once had the stuff. Perhaps he still does. He could change his mind. The Yanks still own him. And they want their money's worth.

JUNIOR BASEBALL SCHOOL TO OPEN AT MARCHBANKS

A Junior Baseball Instruction School, starts next Tuesday at Marchbanks park under the direction of Richard Warne, recreation leader.

Eligible are boys between the ages of 10 and 15. Classes run Tuesday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Signups begin Tuesday at the ball park.

Instruction will cover fielding, throwing, hitting, base running, position play, rules and strategy.

Warne played baseball for San Francisco State and last year coached the State JV's to their first winning season.

Boys interested in the school are required to bring their own gloves. Bats and balls will be furnished by the city recreation department.

Helpers are particularly needed at Benjamin Franklin during the arts and crafts periods from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and at peak hours of equipment check-out from 10 to 12 and 1 to 3 every day.

At Garden Village, since the majority of the children are younger and the attendance is larger, helpers are even more in demand. Every day except Thursday, which is special events day, sees a multitude of situations where an extra person of help in the game room and the library, and the arts and crafts periods from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday could use several more pairs of willing hands.

Special Events

Special events days create a demand for parent escorts the outings, parent judges on the contests and tournaments, and parent workers and coordinators on the shows and get-togethers.

So, any parents who want to help insure that a well planned recreational program will reach all the children even more thoroughly will find that they too will enjoy summer vacation by helping at either Benjamin Franklin or Garden Village school grounds or both. They may go to the schools and sign up with the supervisors, or may call Eleanor Cohen at PL 6-0460 or Gwin Mitchell at PL 5-0679.

Coastside Lions Engage DC Nine

The unbeaten Coastside Lions, 5-0 for the season, invade Daly City's Marchbanks diamond this Sunday morning to clash with the potent DC Drug nine. Tilt starts at 11 o'clock.

The Coastside, 13 and 14 years of age, are managed by John Kelly. He still is looking for players, so youngsters interested should call him at FL 5-2248.

Beaver Swanson, whose brother is a mainstay at Westmoor High, will take the hill against the DC team this Sunday, Kelly said.

The Coastside Lions club, long active in the youth movement, believe their juniors are one of the better squads in Coast history.

Garden Village, Benjamin Franklin Summer Rec Programs Attract 600

Enthusiastic response to the planned summer programs at the Garden Village and Benjamin Franklin schools has resulted in a total of almost 600 children being registered during the first week, and indications are that the total will go even higher before the month is out.

Supervisors on the playground areas have been kept busy providing games, arts and crafts and sports for the constant crowds of eager children, and there isn't a moment when something isn't doing.

Of particular interest to the fifth to eighth grade youngsters is the program planned at Benjamin Franklin by supervisors Marcia Shuken and Sid Phelan. Geared to the needs of this older age group, it will include social and square dancing, a basketball clinic, a junior olympics meet, and a variety of tournaments including chess, checkers, pingpong, baseball, free throw, softball and basketball. Also at the school grounds are equipment and facilities for football, kickball, foursquare, tetherball, and volleyball, plus a variety of indoor table games. Boxing and tumbling also have been scheduled.

Arts and Crafts

Arts and crafts at the school will include basketry, pyroclaving, key boards, paper sculpture, murals, string balloons, crayon resist, crayon etchings, and paper weights.

Much the same program has been scheduled for Garden Village, though activities there are scaled for children from kindergarten age through fourth grade primarily. Supervisors John Belforte, Alice Overstreet and Irwin Cohen preside over a playground and three classrooms full of children, including the game room, library, and arts and crafts room. Archery is a special once-a-week event, as are the 2 to 4 p.m. Monday movies. Children from both schools attend these at room 3 in Garden Village school.

The program at these schools have been coordinated with others at other schools and at Daly City parks, and special events have been scheduled weekly throughout the summer for all of the groups to enjoy, together or at each site. One is the zoo trip set for this week, another the pet show and novelty race on July 3, and the all-city playday on July 11th.

Need Volunteers

James L. Snell PTA is currently busy recruiting volunteer parent helpers for the two school recreation programs.

KICKBALL at recently redeveloped Frankfort park in the older section of Daly City always brings a load of youngsters to the scene. The small, hill-side park, like all other city recreation sites, is jammed to capacity. Observing recreation leader Marie Caracolo's class are Elman Rose and Bob Leibe (center back-ground), members of the city recreation staff. THE RECORD photo
